

“1994 saw massive advances in software and communications, and these were the very developments that brought our business to the BIC that year, as the location had quickly become established as an ideal base for cutting edge companies. Provisions on-site have since developed in parallel with the success and growth of our business, allowing us to continue to base our operations here.”

Ian Chapman, CiA Training, Sunderland